“ RIP my friend, welcomed me into your life,house, had great times, so much that I stayed way too long, if I wasn't having fun I would not have been there, remember you cried when I left, so words can not say what I mean bro, wish I knew the words to say to the families and friends, just am proud we bonded, wish I would have hugged you longer, know we had a rocky start, but fixed all that, will say a prayer or triple today at my thanksgiving dinners, anything I can do for the family will be done, they say time heals, I hope so, right now I have to put on a smiley face, really don't know how, wish the words would come out better, heaven will have one heck of a band, peace
